

Material Interaction Researcher

Full-time

Eindhoven

As a Material Interaction Researcher you will improve toners significantly on scuffing level.

Tasks & Responsibilities

- The main task will be to support the development of an improved toner which will comply with all aspects.
- High effort is required regarding the following topics:

Material investigation

Characterization of material interactions.

Propose experiments based upon material knowledge.

Determine working latitude.

If required development of measurement methods.

Reporting of results and knowledge.

Your profile

- Minimum Bachelor degree.
- Practical approach supported with theoretical expectations.
- Good communication skills.
- Material knowledge preferably polyester chemistry.
- Team player and able to work independently.

Our company characteristics

- Independency
- Flexibility
- Reliability
- Expertised
- Speed
- Honesty
- Transparency

Terms of employment

- A marketconform and attractive salary
- A full travel allowance € 0,19 cent net / kilometer
- 25 holidays a year
- A collective retirement fund
- A collective discount on your health insurance
- A growing organisation with personal development opportunities
- You will be working for a highly regarded customer on challenging projects

- Appreciation for our colleagues is very important. Therefore we have activities for all our colleagues on a regular basis. We also provide all our employees with a birthday present and Christmas gift.