The federal state of Baden-Wuerttemberg is located in southwest Germany and is one of the strongest economies and most competitive regions in Europe. The labour market is stable and the demand for skilled workers in various branches remains high.

Offenburg is a city in the west of Baden-Württemberg and is close to the French City of Strasbourg. It is located in the foothill zone of the Middle Black Forest and is also known as the 'Gateway to the Black Forest'. It is one of the most famous destinations in Germany. The numerous lakes and bathing lakes in the area attract a lot of recreation seekers. The city also offers a variety of sports and leisure activities.
