

OPEN POSITIONS FOR NURSES AT THE KAROLINSKA UNIVERSITY HOSPITAL, STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN

Karolinska University Hospital is today one of Europe's leading university hospitals with about 16 000 employees. In the Stockholm region we have a special responsibility for highly specialized care and together with the Karolinska Institute we carry out education and world leading research in several different areas. As a university hospital our main mission is research, education and development of health and healthcare. An integrated view of care, research and education characterizes the organization as well as the control and monitoring of our operations.

We are now looking for nurses to several of our departments, primarily to Theme Neuro.

At Theme Neuro we treat patients from all over Sweden and the world. Our areas of care are Neurovascular diseases, Neurosurgery as well as conditions of the nervous system such as MS, ALS and Parkinson.

We are looking for nurses who

- are service minded and recognize that good care is essential
- are interested in the development of care and patient-centered care
- want to be part of a team
- want to take part in influencing our activities towards better care processes

We offer you

- Possibility to study Swedish in combination with work in order to reach C1-level in Swedish
- Selected candidates will be offered a visit to the Karolinska University Hospital before the employment starts
- Assistance in finding accommodation in Stockholm
- Individual introduction program
- Mentor at the ward
- Competitive salary set at an individual level in accordance with your experience. Starting salary for unexperienced nurse 27 500 SEK.
- Annual salary raise
- Minimum 25 days of paid holiday per year
- Continuous in-house training through e-learning, classroom training and practical training
- Reimbursement if you need to go the doctor
- Annual wellness grant
- Access to fully equipped gyms at the hospital
- Special deals for employees on memberships at a number of gyms

We are planning to visit Italy in October 2019 and will hold interviews with selected candidates. Selected candidates will be contacted in September.

Please send your CV and personal letter* as soon possible to health@arbetsformedlingen.se
Please write Application Karolinska in the subject line of your mail.

*NB Applications which are not in English will not be considered

www.karolinska.se Karolinska University Hospital, 171 86 Stockholm